About two of today's hymns:

Richard Wood writes, "For Christ the King Sunday I hope every year for that wonderful hymn Christ triumphant ever reigning. It is particularly memorable to me for I actually gained an Alpha for an essay on it while at the Canterbury School of Ministry. Something which did not often happen!"

David Wright writes, "When I was a lad, we moved from an industrial part of Leeds to a village called Seacroft where a new estate was being built. The first service of the new, yet to be built, St Richard's Church was held in a Clerk of Works hut and the pews were rows of toilet bowls ready for installation in the new houses. The music was provided by the Rev Mr Ludlow on his violin! Every time I hear this Praise my soul the king of heaven it takes me back to those days."

A course for Advent will take place every Monday from 29th Nov – 20th Dec at 2pm in the Vicarage. Please take a leaflet for info.
